Books for Africa—Update

Just before covid hit, in March 2020, Mr Kricka led a school project to donate books to a village in Africa in liaison with a gentleman named Tendai Simbai. Tendai's aim was to fill a bus with unwanted books and drive them to his home town of Chitungwiza, a village in Zimbabwe, Africa. He told the children about his life at school and how he didn't have many of the things that we often take for granted. Unfortunately with the Covid pandemic this journey was put on hold for quite some time. However, we have just received the picture below with grateful thanks from the village for our part in supporting them to fill their new library.
